Edmonton Accordion Society

About Us

The Edmonton Accordion Society is a registered not-for-profit organization whose purpose is to promote the accordion. The Society also strives to link with the many cultures which feature the accordion as a folk instrument.

Activities include playing for:

- seniors' residences
- farmers markets
- dances
- parties
- special events at the Ukrainian Village
- the new Ukrainian Festival "UFest"
- and in the Accordion Extravaganza Festival.

Members also teach private accordion lessons, have established an accordion club in Mee-Yah-Noh school and have worked with the kids in the CNIB.

What We Can Do For You

- Present a 45 minute classroom program on the accordion.
- Give lessons to the liaison teacher and group until the group is able to progress on their own.
- Lend accordions to the classroom.
- Provide each interested student with Book 1 of the Palmer Hughes Accordion method.

What We Require From You

One or more liaison teachers who will:

- participate in all lessons with the group and will be available for lunch hour or after school lessons.
- provide supervised access to the accordions so students can practice.
- select prospective students that are interested in the program.
- take care of required paperwork regarding parental consent and any FOIP issues.
